ST. JOHNSBURY Local News

The Chiropody office of Dr. F. W. Macdon will be closed August 1st to 17th inclusive.

In many ways New York is the strangest, most fascinating city in the world. It's so big that you never know your neighbor. Your waiter may be an escaped convict. Your chauffeur an ex-nobleman. And your parlor maid a duchess in disguise. George Barr McCutcheon, the author of "Graustark," "Brewster's Millions," and a score of other "best sellers," once wrote an entertaining novel about New York and its camouflaged citizens. It was a love story, packed with romantic adventure. He called it "The City of Masks." Naturally, such a story was rich material for a fine motion picture. Paramount Artcraft recently transformed it to the screen, with Robert Warwick as the star, and beautiful Lois Wilson, and a notable cast besides as support. It is a wonderfully strong picture. Beautiful settings, and elaborate throughout. It is the picture "different." See it today or tomorrow at The Palace U.

Use Nazol for Catarrh. Adv.
Hon. Bourke Cockran will make some informal remarks this evening at 8 o'clock sharp, at the Lawn Party on the grounds of St. Aloysius Church.
